The public prefers a 2-party system

Most Israelis (56%) support the idea of two large parties, as compared with 33% who oppose it. Analysis of the findings by political camp reveals that most Likud voters (72%); Blue and White voters (78%), and Labor-Gesher voters (72%) support the principle of two large parties. It is not surprising that the main opposition to reducing the number of parties in Knesset comes from the voters for small parties: The Joint List—42%; and the Democratic Camp—also 42%. The main opposition comes from the ultra-Orthodox parties: Shas (69.5%) and United Torah Judaism (68 %).

Elections: Round #3: “If elections were held today, would you vote for the same party you voted for in the September elections?”
